Invitation Letter

It is my great honor to invite you to participate in the 2016 International Symposium on Marine Genomics held at The Global Convention Plaza in Seoul National University, Korea on June 21–23, 2016. “The Marine Genome 100+ Korea” is carrying out the project “Genome Analysis of Marine Organisms and Development of Functional Applications” launched in October 2014 in the Ministry of Oceans and Fisheries. I would like to share current issues and new focus on the global demands for marine genomics research with you.

2016 ISMG invited eleven distinguished researchers abroad and Korea: Dr. Debashish Bhattacharya (USA), Dr. Hwan Su Yoon (Korea), Dr. Joong-Ki Park (Korea), Dr. Oleg Simakov (Japan), Dr. Noriyuki Satoh (Japan), Dr. Jang-Cheon Cho (Korea), Dr. Haiwei Luo (China), Dr. Mina Rho (Korea), Dr. Yuzhen Ye (USA), Dr. Bo-Hye Nam (Korea), Dr. Ikuo Hirono (Japan), and Dr. Woonbong Kim (Korea). They will provide an intensive overview of animal, plant, and microbial genomics.

I hope many researchers and students to attend the symposium and to have the opportunity learning about the current progress on the marine genomics. I am looking forward to seeing you on June 21–23 in Seoul.

With best wishes,

Won Kim
